- New military barracks are located in Prague-Jinonice opposite the Tyrs school on Mezi Lany street which connects Jinonicka and Butovicka ulice. The site is 200 m. long and 150 m. wide.
- 2. The construction started in Spring 1953 and it is to be finished in June 1954. Armastav, Mational Enterprise, is in charge of the construction. Fittings are being delivered by the CKD plant.
- the construction is designed in such a way that the barracks could be turned into a hospital if necessary. It was rumored among the PTP men that airmen were to be billeted in the barracks.
- 4. About 50 civilians and 50 PTP (auxiliary technical battalion) men are working on the site. A bricklayer gets 4 Kcs. per hour; a carpenter gets 8 Kcs. per hour; an unskilled worker gets 3.50 Kcs. per hour; a PTP man according to government regulations should be paid like other normal workers, but he gets less, an average of about 2.50 per hour. The PTP men live in huts in the barracks area; most of the civilian workers live in Prague, but a few live in a hut in the area of the barracks. All employees have their meals in the canteen, but the cooking is separate for PTP and civilians. The PTP have 25X1 political instruction twice a week; the civilians, once a week.
